There will be NO
WORSHIP on May 29.

Dear friends,
 Spring is late, but it's coming. We have been blessed with a few glimpses of it as we see the geese flying north, robins hopping across our lawns; ditches filled with water. Can you believe it? Thankfully we are not experiencing the flooding that is happening in places like Hatton, Mayville, and Grand Forks.

We come from people who are used to struggling with the unknown, especially when it comes to the weather. We are people who have come to know the power of prayer to help us keep strong, hopeful and resourceful. We have come to know the truth of St. Paul's words, "Rejoice in the Lord, always; again I say rejoice." And again, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." I/We know that, every year, whether it begins early in the spring or late, whether there is little moisture or too much, I don't remember a fall there hasn't been a harvest. Granted, sometimes combines are running in snow, but still the crop comes in.

We are also a people who do not stop living our lives, even when feeling a bit depressed by the long winter. Sunday School has completed another year. Soon Vacation Bible School will be coming. Along with that some of our young people will be celebrating the Confirmation Sundays; a time when they will affirm for themselves the faith that their parents and sponsors once spoke on their behalf. And once again, at last spring will arrive and smiles will be easier to come by. Before long, many of us will be heading for the lakes on the weekends or heading off on trips to see friends, family.

Before any of that happens, I am going to ask that none of us forget our church homes during the summer months. As you know attendance drops significantly in the summer months; however, the bills don't go on vacation. I know that both of our church councils who wrestle with how to keep current financially would greatly appreciate anything you can do in this area.

Even more importantly, don't forget to worship on Wednesday evenings this summer. If you are at home, come. If you are out in the field, come in your work clothes, hear God's grace filled word.

Have a wonderful May, and then when summer arrives may God continually keep you in His care.

Love in Christ,
 Pastor Gordy
